Lady Jackets open home season

Cedarville College begins the home portion of the 1994-95 schedule today against Taylor University. The Lady Jackets opened the season last weekend in Kentucky -- losing on Friday at Georgetown, who is ranked 22nd in NAIA Division II, 70-54, and then rebounding to win at Transylvania, 79-77, on Saturday.

There are a number of unknowns when it comes to predicting how the women's basketball season will turn out. That's the case despite having three starters and nine letterwinners in all returning this winter. Even though several questions remain to be answered, that hasn't deterred the upbeat approach of head coach Kathy Freese.

"We're taking a positive approach," Freese declared. "It's possible we could have a great season. We are beginning to develop some depth in the program and our returning players have demonstrated improvement over last year."

"Our strengths include a good defense, solid inside game, and excellent rebounding. We plan to force an uptempo game and our attack will be balanced."

"No one should come to the forefront offensively. A number of players will contribute. We are not putting the emphasis on who's starting, but on how much playing time everyone is going to get."

Rebounding hasn't been a problem for the Lady Jackets in recent years. Last season, they led the MOC and ranked seventh nationally in NAIA Division II by grabbing 55.7 percent of the available rebounds.

Junior guard Melissa Hartman is the top returning scorer. After averaging 14.4 points per game as a rookie, she dipped to 11.4 points last year as the team's number two point producer. She is Cedarville's most experienced backcourt player having started all 58 games in which she has played.

Seniors Christine Copeland and Shaundra Randolph are the team's co-captains. Copeland, a 5-10 forward, is a three-year starter who is the Jackets' top rebounder. She averaged 8.8 boards to go along with 7.6 points last season. Freese claims that Randolph, who was an NAIA All-America Scholar-Athlete last year, could blossom into a big surprise this season as a 5-9 center. She averaged 5.3 points and 4.9 rebounds in '93-94.

Becky Cave, a 6-1 junior center, has played primarily as a starter during her two years in the program. She contributed 6.2 points and 5.3 rebounds last season.

Junior guard Cindy Cremeans, who was part of Findlay's successful program the past two years, should help right away. Melanie Fraley, another junior guard, as well as sophomore guards Kari Dunlap and Jill Detwiler plus center Amy Bathrick will be expected to make huge contributions this season. All have received a wealth of varsity experience up to this point in their respective careers.

TODAY'S OPPONENT -- Taylor University, an institution of 1,840 students, is located in Upland, Indiana. The Trojans compete in NAIA Division II and the National Christian College Athletic Association.

This is the season opener for Taylor. The Trojans posted a 14-17 record last year, which included an 82-77 win over Cedarville at the Huntington Tournament. The Jackets have won seven of the previous 13 meetings between the two schools.

ON THE ROAD AGAIN -- This is the only home game in the first nine outings of the season for the Lady Jackets. Coupled with last year's finish of six straight away from home, that makes 14 of 15 games on foreign hardwood.
